About GLS

As the leading regional carrier for the wine shipping industry, GLS provides a level of service that is superior to other carriers when it comes to delivery success, convenience, flexibility, and cost. GLS serves thousands of customers in both the Direct-to-Consumer and Direct-to-Trade business.

GLS currently ships in California, Arizona, Nevada, Colorado, Oregon, Washington Idaho, New Mexico and Utah

What sets GLS apart from other shippers:

- GLS will accept full cases of wine in the original winery packaging for your wine shipments to trade locations, so there's no need to unbox and repackage.
- GLS offers aggressive pricing and automatic 100-weight discounting to reduce delivery cost per case on multiple-case shipments to a single address.
- Automatic Saturday delivery at no additional cost.
- Wine recipients are contacted via email and/or phone to coordinate second delivery attempts, and have the option to schedule a 4-hour window in which to receive shipment at no additional fee.
- Offsite pickup locations can be easily accommodated for wine stored at wineries, fulfillment houses, or storage facilities.
- Access GLS's web-based system, while integrating with existing shipping, point-of-sale, and warehouse management systems, as well as compliance software.

With GLS, labeling your packages is simple. Packages should be prepared and labeled according to the GLS DTT shipping standards. Proper package preparation is defined as:

1. Original, full-case winery packaging required.

2. Package must contain its original contents (no bottles removed).
3. To minimize damage, cases should be oriented with the bottles “neck-up” for shipping.
4. A GLS-Compliant bar-coded address label must be applied to the top (cork side) of each package.
5. A GLS Select Wine Service (orange) label must also be applied to the top of each package.
